

Table of Contents

Foreword – Michael Fullan

Part I – Systems Thinking at the School Level

Chapter 1: System Self-Regulation and Static Equilibria: How Socio-Cognitive Control Processes Regulate School Responses to External Reform – Ebony N. Bridwell-Mitchell

Chapter 2: Systems Thinking to Drive School Turnaround – Sharon F. Rallis & Rachael B. Lawrence

Chapter 3: Schools as Soft Systems: Addressing the Complexity of Ill-Defined Problems – Sharon D. Kruse

Chapter 4: Principals' Systems Thinking: The Meaning and Measure of a Leadership Construct – Haim Shaked, Pascale Benoliel, Nechama Nadav, & Chen Schechter

Part II – Systems Thinking at the District/Regional Level

Chapter 5: Using Hierarchical Growth Modeling to Promote District Systematic Improvement in Ohio and Texas – Alex J. Bowers, Xinyu Ni, & Jennifer Esswein

Chapter 6: Whole District Transformation: Leading Systems Change for Sustainability – Cynthia L. Uline & Lisa A.W. Kensler

Chapter 7: ‘Holistic Engagement’: Framing Theory, Strategic Communication, and the Superintendency – James Coviello & David E. DeMatthews

Chapter 8: System Leadership for Continuous Improvement: The Role of District-Level Leaders in Creating the Conditions for System-Wide Improvement – Christina J. Dixon & David Eddy-Spicer

Part III – Systems Thinking at the State/National Level

Chapter 9: The Impact of the “Social” in Social Media Space: A Systems Perspective on Educational Policy and Leadership – Alan J. Daly, Miguel del Fresno, &

Jonathan A. Supovitz

Chapter 10: Using the Systems thinking Approach in Educational Policy Setting: A

Choice among Compromises – Adam Nir

Chapter 11: School Turnaround Reform: Optimizing Confluence of Influence and

Dynamic Disequilibrium – Andrea Rorrer, Vicki Park, Cori Groth, & Janice Bradley

Chapter 12: Improving Schools in Victoria, Australia: System, Region and School

Perspectives – David Gurr & Lawrie Drysdale